

Snow-Camp 2011/2012 Bursary places

The Starr Trust

Stacey Pender, 17, Brixton, Skiing

Stacey is a fantastic addition to the programme and is so full of enthusiasm for skiing. She did struggle to begin with but her passion and determination helped her to gain confidence in her ability and she is now becoming a competent skier. She is really looking forward to Scotland and getting away from London to experience something new. She is so excited about being given this opportunity from The Starr Trust and wants to make sure she succeeds at every stage.

Claudia Quinn, 17, Camden, Snowboarding

Claudia is an energetic member of the group and her energy and passion come through in her snowboarding. Claudia is always the first to be ready to go and her enthusiasm never fades. She is grateful that she is being given this opportunity to go through all the Snow-Camp programmes and is really looking forward to qualifying as a level 1 snowboard instructor.

Salters' Charitable Foundation

Daniel Alves, 19, Camberwell, Snowboarding

Daniel has really taken to snowboarding and his passion and enthusiasm really show. He was one of the first in the group to progress from the beginner slope to the main slope, which was a fantastic achievement. Daniel has said that without the opportunity from The Salters' Foundation he wouldn't be able to continue through the courses and is so grateful for the support and opportunities that lay ahead.

Maya Wright, 16, Stockwell, Snowboarding

Maya is a fantastic member of the group and has really progressed with her snowboarding. She is determined and enthusiastic and is always keen to learn more. She works really well with the instructors and always does what is asked of her. Maya said she is really grateful to be given this opportunity from the Salters' foundation and can't wait to become a qualified level 1 snowboard instructor!

Miles Kemp Trust

Jamille Malcolm, 18, Brixton, snowboarding

Jamille is really progressing well with the course. He found it quite hard at first but he kept practicing and through his determination recently moved from the beginner slope to the main slope. He said he was nervous to go down the main slope, but was so happy when he got to the bottom! Jamille is so grateful for the opportunity to be funded through the Snow-Camp programmes by the Miles Kemp Trust and can't wait to go out to experience the real mountains for himself.

Sean Fagan, 16, Brixton, snowboarding

Sean is a great snowboarder and always puts all his effort into it. He was one of the first of the group to move over to the main slope and is now progressing really well. His passion for the sport never fades and he is always itching to get on the slope! Sean said he is excited about being given the opportunity to pursue snowboarding and can't wait to start his level 1 instructor training.

Myles Robinson Memorial Trust

Tashan Veal, 17, Brixton, skiing

Tashan is a fantastic and passionate skier who is always looking forward to getting on the slopes and working hard to improve his skiing technique. When we spoke to Tashan about the Myles Robinson Trust funding him through the programmes he was overwhelmed and couldn't believe he was being given this fantastic opportunity. He said that with out the funding he doesn't think he would have been able to continue skiing as it's an expensive sport to take part in. He said he couldn't thank the Myles Robinson Trust enough and was going to make sure he passed his level 1 instructor qualification and not let them down.

Charlotte 'Charlie' Poole, 16, Westminster.

Charlie was introduced to Snow-Camp and snowboarding through St Andrew's Youth club in Westminster, which has been a great support network for her through some very difficult times. Charlie has been fantastic on the course and she continues to push herself and work hard with the instructors every week to achieve the next level. She is so determined to keep going with her snowboarding and has said that without the help of the Trust she wouldn't have been able to. She said she cannot thank the Myles Robinson trust enough for this amazing opportunity and wants to achieve her goals so she can give something back to young people like the Trust did for her.
